SkillsUSA is a national organization that strives to improve the quality of America's skilled workforce by partnering students, teachers, and industry representatives. The Skills USA organization holds regional, state, and national competitions where students demonstrate occupational and leadership skills.

Prosser Career Education Center recently competed in the SkillsUSA national competition June 20-24th in Louisville, Kentucky. Each Prosser student competing at Nationals qualified for the SkillsUSA National Competition by being an Indiana State Champion. Prosser had a successful week with Ashley Lyninger capturing the National Championship.
